Now Locked In Battle With Communist Armored Forces

Atrocities In Korean War Are Reported

Report Seven U.S. Soldiers Bound And Shot To Death

By JOHN RICH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

U. S. ADVANCED HEADQUARTERS, Korea, July 10.—A U. S. Army spokesman tonight announced that seven American soldiers were found bound and shot to death in territory recaptured from Communist North Korean forces.

The Army spokesman, making the first confirmation of atrocity reports from the Korean front, accused the North Korean Reds of "savagely violating" codes of international warfare.

Seven Victims

The Army spokesman said the seven American soldiers were found with their hands tied behind their backs and heads riddled with machinegun bullets.

Confirming a second atrocity, the Army spokesman said American soldiers watching through field glasses saw a North Korean patrol shoot up an ambulance plainly marked with the Red Cross insignia, apparently killing two medical corpsmen and two stretcher cases being brought back from the battle lines.

It was the first official confirmation of atrocities previously reported in dispatches from newsmen at the front.

The Army spokesman said American troops have not yet regained the area in which the ambulance was shot up to check on the victims.

It was a big day in the Slippery Rock valley Sunday. Hundreds of cars parked along the creek, and swimmers were plentiful. Some 30 carloads of parents and friends visited the Heinz House camp. Near Armstrong and Harris bridges there were scores of cars. From Breakneck bridge down into McConnell's Mills and up the hill highway for a quarter of a mile cars were parked and the mill parking lot was crowded. It was one of the biggest days in years for the valley.

Hollyhock blooming season has arrived again, and many of the flowers on the tall stems are again in evidence.

Historical markers about the county are receiving new lettering and other work is being done to the signs, it is reported by the State Highway department. The signs became victims of the weather with some not being legible. The markers were removed to sign shops in various sections of the state where they are being reconditioned. They will be replaced in a few weeks.

Survey work on the Lawrence County end of the Pennsylvania Turnpike is continuing in the Little and Big Beaver sections in the vicinity of Ebon Valley. Contractors are expected to move in heavy equipment shortly for the actual construction work on the western terminus of the "dream highway."

POLICEMAN KILLS SHARK

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 10.—(INS)—A 250-pound shark which waged a gallant fight for life was killed by a policeman yesterday as hundreds of vacationers looked on. Patrolman Harry Meyers stood on a narrow bridge and fired 14 rounds at the fish which took all of 30 minutes to kill.

The shark was forced into the policeman's bullet range by fishermen who flailed at it with their oars.

By JUAN PABLO URIBE

BOGOTA, COLOMBIA, July 10.—The death toll mounted to a reported 200 today from a series of sharp earthquakes that rocked the northwestern section of oil-rich Colombia over the weekend. At least 300 were injured.

Hardest hit was the mountainous state of Norte de Santander along the Venezuela border where 63 persons were reported to have died in the little village of Cucutilla not far from the provincial capital of Cucuta.

And sixty persons were reported killed and a large number injured in Arboledas which was destroyed by the violent tremors which ran down the spine of the Andes Mountains and were felt throughout the Republic as well as in neighboring countries.

Lake Ontario Ship Blows Up

PORT DALHOUSIE, ONT., July 10.—(INS)—An unidentified ship blew up last night on Lake Ontario leaving no clues to its registry except for a few scattered bits of wreckage.

The explosion of the "ghost" ship occurred three miles from the entrance to the Welland canal.

Ontario provincial police notified U. S. Coastguards at the Youngstown, N. Y., station who immediately began a search for survivors but none were found.

A few scattered pieces of debris on which there were letters of English registry gave rise to the belief the ship might have been a British tanker.

Britain Seeks Aid Of Russia In Ending War

Report Draft Of Proposal To Soviet Has Been Prepared

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager I.N.S.

PARIS, July 10.—Authoritative diplomatic sources disclosed today that the British government has prepared a tentative draft of a proposal to Russia to help end the Korean war before it flares up in a world-wide conflict.

International News Service learned that a copy of the draft has already been transmitted to the French foreign office for consideration and possible approval.

While the nature of the British proposal is top secret, diplomatic sources say it is intended to answer Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's request for "elucidation" of just what the British think the Russians can do to help end the war.

Asks for Specific Proposals
Gromyko asked for more specific proposals in a Moscow meeting last week with British Ambassador David Kelly.

It is expected that official French reaction to the preliminary draft will be sent to London today, where the British cabinet is supposedly meeting to discuss the same subject.

After considering the French reaction it is believed that the British government will forward the proposal to Kelly in Moscow in the form of instructions.

It is still not known if the British proposal outlines a specific plan for settlement of the Korean conflict or merely suggests a basis for continuing Anglo-Russian talks.

Reports from London indicate an optimistic attitude on the part of the British government which feels that Gromyko deliberately left the door open for further discussion.

Prime Minister Clement Attlee is said to be extremely eager to have Britain act the role of mediator.

Thousands Of Troops May Be Sent To Korea

By DARRELL GARWOOD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Alerting thousands of home-based troops for early movement to Korea supported official opinion today that the Far East fighting may be the decisive showdown with Russia.

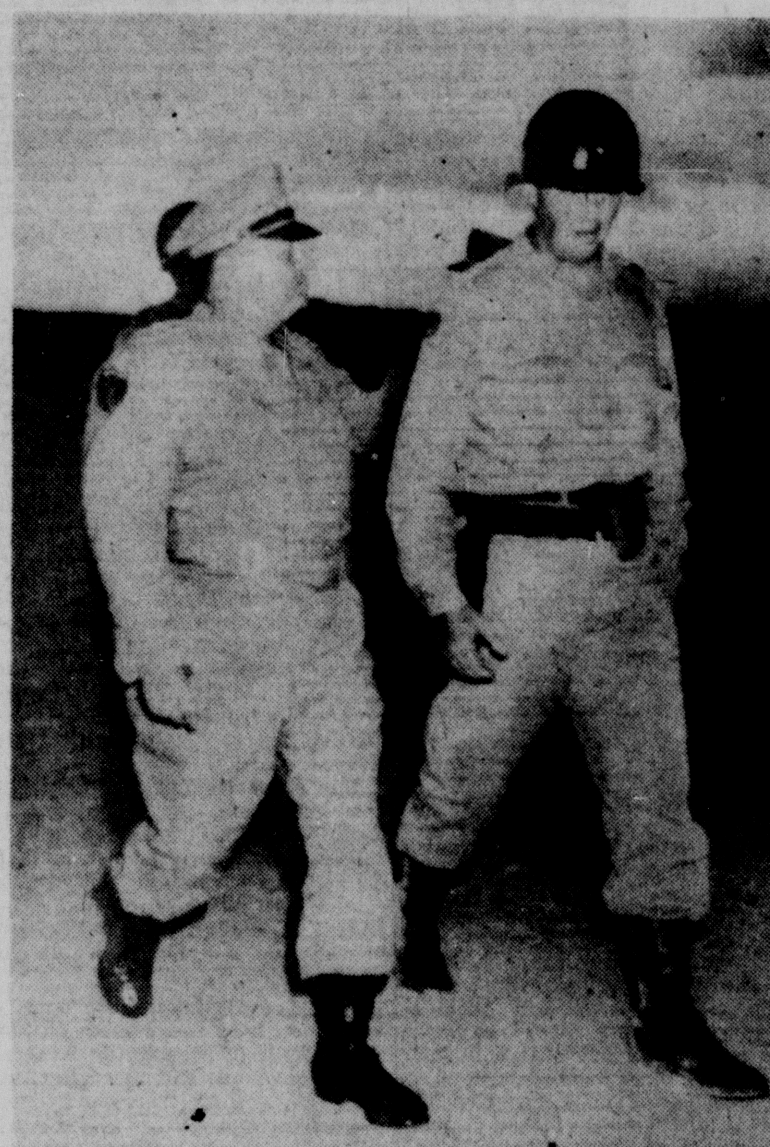

Defense Department orders have prepared crack units in the Second, Third, Fourth and Sixth Army areas for early involvement in front-line combat.

Exact numbers of men and equipment in these units is a strict secret. But one point is abundantly clear—reservists or draftees or both will be needed to replace them.

President Truman's decision to activate the draft reflects his personal resignation to the fact that American troops are committed to a long, costly struggle in Korea.

The President admits privately that the choice of whether the world shall have peace or another all-war rests with the Russian government. Mr. Truman still believes the odds are in favor of world peace.

Confer On U.N. Prospective Aid In Korean Conflict

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 10.—The United Nations opens informal consultations today on the amount of aid, military or non-military, each is prepared to contribute for crushing the invasion of South Korea.

The census on assistance from the 47 governments which pledged support of the Security Council sanctions against the North Korean communists is going ahead on the assumption that Supreme U. N. Commander Gen. Douglas MacArthur shortly will make heavy demands upon the world organization.

Memorandums from the Soviet Union attacking the legality of the U. N. military intervention and all questions of mediation in Korea have been brushed aside until, in the words of a top official, "the aggressor either has been driven (Continued On Page Fifteen)

Three Are Killed In Bus Crash

More Than 30 Others Hurt In Illinois

Bus-Auto Collision

GREENVILLE, ILL., July 10.—(INS)—Authorities today are investigating the pre-dawn crash of a Pennsylvania Greyhound Lines bus and auto which killed three persons and injured more than 30 others at so-called "casualty corner" near Greenville.

All but one of the survivors were hurled from the bus yesterday. The top sheared off when it overturned and ripped along upside-down. Some of the passengers were thrown to the pavement. Others landed in a cornfield near the accident scene.

The dead were Victor H. Bilyeu, 23-year-old driver of the auto from Sorento, Ill.; Mrs. Ellen I. Dobbs, 25, of Mount Vernon, Ohio; and Mrs. Bessie Arp, 65, of St. Louis.

At least one of the survivors, 79-year-old William Brown of Albuquerque, N. M., is reported in critical condition at St. Joseph's hospital in nearby Highland, Ill.

Seventy Years Old But He Rows Across English Channel

FOLKESTONE, ENG., July 10.—(INS)—What more proper and fitting way to celebrate his 70th birthday, Georges Adan told friends, than to row across the English Channel in a dinghy?

The elderly Frenchman did it yesterday, crossing from Boulogne to Folkestone in six hours and 24 minutes.

To prove that everything improves with age, Adan pointed out that this beat his own previous channel rowing record of seven hours and 45 minutes.

That was how long it took Adan back in 1905.

Battle Scene Just North Of Kum River Line

Second American Army Battalion Reported Encircled

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, July 11—(Tuesday)—United States troops, using tanks in combat for the first time in the Korean war, were locked today in a full-scale battle with Communist armored forces that have smashed to within some five miles north of the vital Kum river defense line.

The battle, on the west wing of a front blazing with action at several points across the peninsula, was disclosed by Gen. Douglas MacArthur who announced that "a North Korean force, probably the Third Division, is in contact with a United States force just north of Chochiwon."

100 Mile Advance
Chochiwon, an important rail-highway junction, lies only five airline miles north of the upper crook of the Kum river and 18 miles north-northwest of the strategic stronghold of Raegun. Arrival of the North Korean Division before Chochiwon represented a maximum penetration by the invaders of 100 miles inside South Korea.

It is indicated a 15-mile Communist advance southeast from Red-captured Chonan. A front dispatch said a second American army battalion was encircled by flanking Red columns south of Chonan and was trying to fight its way out in a battle which saw U. S. tanks enter the Korean fighting. A U. S. Army "lost battalion" had fought its way through an encircling Red division north of Chonan Sunday.

Gen. MacArthur, in his latest communique issued at midnight Monday, said the North Korean (Continued On Page Two)

Report Maneuvers Along Yugoslavia By Massed Troops

LONDON, JULY 10.—(INS)—Yugoslavia charged today that three Soviet satellites—Bulgaria, Hungary, and Romania—have massed troops along the border to force it into "accepting the status of a colony of the Soviet Union."

Radio Belgrade, in a broadcast heard in London, said that these troops have begun maneuvers of a "provocative, aggressive character" along Yugoslavia's frontiers.

The charge was made by the Yugoslavia army newspaper Narodna Armija which added:

"These maneuvers will not frighten Yugoslavia into accepting the status of a colony of the Soviet Union."

They heaved their way through the North Korean first division which Gen. Douglas MacArthur in a special report on their heroism, said outmanned and outgunned them "in a ratio of more than 10 to 1."

Delaying Action
He added: "In this bold operation the bat-

Long Legal Fight Looms On Probe In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, July 10.—(INS)—A long legal fight seemed sure today before the state administration can convene a special grand jury to investigate charges that Pittsburgh public office holders misused city labor and materials.

Both Allegheny county District Attorney William S. Rahauser and State Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti pledged to carry their jurisdictional dispute to the State Supreme Court, which is in recess until September.

Rahauser, a Democrat, was all set to begin a probe with a June grand jury when Margiotti ordered him to pull out and permit the state to handle the inquiry. Margiotti was appointed attorney general last Wednesday by Gov. James H. Duff, a Republican.

Must Be Argued
Margiotti's superseding order of last Thursday now must be argued in quarter sessions court. Originally, he started the whole "free work" probe while acting as attorney for the widow of a city employee.

The woman, Mrs. Josephine Diels, claimed her husband was killed in an accident while he was on his way to work on a city official's summer home.

Mayor David L. Lawrence, a Democratic party national committeeman, promised a statement on the matter today. He cancelled his planned five-week tour of Europe to return to Pittsburgh yesterday.

Reds Planned To Overrun Korea Quickly

By FRANK EMERY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, July 10.—Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, commander of the U. S. Far East Air Forces, declared late today that prompt action by the American and allied ground, air and naval units has thwarted a Communist plan to overrun all of South Korea quickly.

The air General simultaneously promised that his warplanes will be engaged in "round-the-clock bombings against any target that is or will be of military assistance to the north Korean government."

Referring to day and night air attacks just launched against the enemy in Korea, Stratemeyer said that "we would have liked to have started this two days earlier but we could not."

Has Been Stopped

He added:

"Our opponent is well organized, well equipped and well directed and it is my opinion that everything he has done to date was planned to overrun South Korea right to and including Pusan."

"But the great effort to our ground forces the Far East Air Forces and the Navy has stopped him."

"Pusan is Korea's main port lying at the southeast corner of the peninsula."

"The round-the-clock offensive, Stratemeyer said, will not strike at any targets outside Korea's borders."

"The chief of America's Far East aerial formations denied that any of his planes have bombed cities as such."

He declared they are bombing military objectives such as railroads, rail stations and bridges "inside or outside" of cities.

"Recapitulating the role of his air forces thus far in the Korean War, Stratemeyer said 1,570 combat missions have been flown through Sunday, excluding cargo flights."

Up until Sunday night, he went on, the Far East Air Forces have lost 20 combat bombers and fighters, plus five C-54 transports and one Australian Mustang fighter listed as missing.

The American FEAF casualties were listed by Stratemeyer as 25 officers and men "lost."

tor in ending the conflict, French officials, too, strongly believe every effort must be made to secure Soviet co-operation in working out a formula to end the Korean war and particularly prevent its spread.

The French think such a formula must be found before American forces drive the North Koreans back behind the 38th parallel boundary line.

But at the same time western diplomatic officials in Paris take a cautious view of the Russian request for British terms. They fear that Russia may be striving to drive a hard bargain for peace at the cost of important concessions.

DEATH TOLL IN COLOMBIA QUAKE REPORTED NEAR 200

ly sent planes with relief supplies to the ravaged province. The Red Cross immediately mobilized international facilities to help the victims of the quakes.

The severe shocks, which caused mountain ranges to quiver, destroyed telephone and telegraph lines making it difficult to get an accurate and clear report of the damage.

(This dispatch was telephoned from Bogota because of the difficulty of getting communications through.)

Geologists said that the severe jolts were probably caused by the settling of the Andes—the mountain axis of the southern continent. They were felt over a tremendously large area.

Started Saturday Night

Reports reaching the capital of Bogota said that the quakes caused hysteria among residents in Santander Province and sent them fleeing to the hills after the tremors rocked buildings to their foundation and sent them crashing to the ground.

The quakes and tremors started Saturday night and continued through Sunday evening. Three shocks were felt in Bogota during the night. The second of the three tremors caused alarm among the capital's residents but no severe damage was reported.

NO WARTIME CONTROLS ARE REQUIRED YET

wages, rents, and use of materials.

But, the official added:

"Controls such as were recommended in dealing with the post-war inflation will not be necessary until anything which is planned now."

Officials are hopeful that the shooting will be confined to Korea and that Russian leaders will not plunge the world into a holocaust that might well extinguish themselves along with millions of others.

White House economic advisers contend that the Korean War found the American economy in an unusually strong condition, with industrial production and business at new peacetime highs and without an inflationary situation such as existed through most of 1948.

The absence of a renewed inflation, they insist, makes it possible to carry on the Korean conflict without curbs on the economy.

Sears, Roebuck Emnloves Picnic

Sears, Roebuck and company employees and personnel held their annual family picnic outing Sunday, at Lakewood Beach.

Approximately 250 persons were in attendance and were served a delicious picnic dinner and other refreshments.

The day was enjoyed with various diversions, including games for both the young and old, horse shoe pitching, soft ball, badminton, dancing and swimming.

A committee was in charge of arrangements and were commended for their splendid arrangements for the day's program.

First Division, "which encircled a United States battalion at Chonan, has advanced to the vicinity of Chongan," 27 airlines miles east of Chonan.

Double Pincer Thrust

The Communist columns, placed by Russian-made tanks, thus appeared to be developing a double pincer thrust converging on the northward bulging Kum line from northwest and northeast, despite a day and night American air offensive hammering the enemy forces.

Chongan lies 22 airline miles northeast of the Kum bend and 31 miles northeast of Taejon.

Gen. MacArthur, detailing Monday's fighting in several sectors, declared that Communist attacks launched last Friday night in the Chonan-Chochiwon areas "temporarily lost their momentum."

But the United Nations supreme commander added that "enemy reconnaissance elements are active and reinforcements are moving to forward areas, and that 'this indicated preparation for renewed attacks.'"

Widespread Preparations

MacArthur warned:

"The enemy continues to indicate preparations for a widespread enveloping movement."

American tanks made their combat debut against Russian-built tanks after the main Communist invasion drive down the route from captured Chonan toward the key center of Taejon had been halted Sunday by U. S. air and artillery hammer-blows.

Aerial bombing and strafing of four enemy divisions in the sector above the broad Kum river continued through Sunday night as the U. S. Far East air forces launched a 'round-the-clock' offensive for the first time in the Korean conflict.

The day-and-night air campaign was announced in Tokyo by Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, FAF commander, who declared that prompt American and Allied air, ground and naval action had frustrated a North Korean plan to swallow up all South Korea in short order.

Lost Battalion Safe

The new land engagement on the main sector of the blazing Korean front broke out Monday after an American "lost battalion" had courageously fought its way out of a Communist trap north of Chonan to rejoin the main U. S. forces along the Kum river line.

International News Service correspondent John Kirk reported to Tokyo in a dispatch from American advance headquarters that a second Yank battalion became surrounded "but this time it has tanks and artillery with it and is fighting vigorously against the enemy."

The Communist forces, engaged in what MacArthur called the enemy's "main effort" in the war Sunday, had surged to within 23 miles northwest of menaced Taejon when 136 American fighters and 17 bombers swooped down on the foe in swiftly successive waves.

By the time the airmen were through with their mission, 36 Red tanks, 135 trucks and two locomotives lay in flaming wreckage cluttering the road. Far to the east, four more Communist tanks were put out of commission in an aerial fire bomb attack on the enemy's beachhead at Samchok.

Senate Committee Kills Proposal For Cabinet Post

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)—The senate executive expenditures committee today recommended by a six to three vote that the senate kill President Truman's plan to set up a new cabinet department of health.

One Republican, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Me., voted with two Democrats against scuttling the plan.

The committee action followed testimony, including that of Sen. Taft (R. O.), that President Truman went beyond the Hoover commission recommendations by centering too great controls in the proposed secretary of health.

to the provisions of the draft that they must comply with these regulations. Under the provisions of the 1948 draft act, all men born on or after August 31, 1922, must be registered with the board.

All young men must register within five days after attaining their 18th birthday, and all men who have been in service, must register with the board within 30 days after their discharge from service. Quite a number in the latter class have come in to get registered during the past few days, it is stated.

It is also announced that all men not on active duty, which includes those in the organized reserves, must be registered.

The two local boards here are getting everything in shape to begin the actual drafting of men, if enlistments do not provide the number which the government anticipates will be needed because of the Korean situation, and will be ready to go at a moment's notice.

A rhinestone necklace was a gift of the groom.

Miss Mina Hoover, as her sister's maid of honor, wore with charm a fashionable silk print dress, with a lovely shoulder corsage of pink roses.

Robert Sickels served his brother as best man.

Police Force In Japan Will Be Increased Now

TOKYO, July 10.—(INS)—General Douglas MacArthur authorized the Japanese government to increase the national police force to 200,000 men and also to add 8,000 men to the Japanese Coast Guard.

The move was considered significant in view of the Korean War.

In a letter to Japanese Premier Shigeru Yoshida, MacArthur instructed the Japanese to establish a police reserve of 75,000 men in addition to the present force of 125,000.

The occupation commander said the increase of the Japanese police force was necessary to "bring it within limits experience has shown to be essential to safeguard public welfare in a democratic society."

TV Actress Offers Formula To Success

PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—(INS)—One of television's top singing stars—beautiful Kyle MacDonnell—today offered the TV industry this formula for success: "We of television cannot be intruders. The very fact that we are permitted in the living rooms of our audience demands personality and good manners."

"We should be as welcome and well-thought of as a close friend."

Miss MacDonnell told the Philadelphia club of advertising women that "pretty girls and funny men" aren't enough to guarantee television a rosy future in America.

"The American public has good basic taste," she declared. "This good taste will—and does—force a sense of social consciousness, as well as social conscience, on the entire television industry.

"Television is a personal medium. It combines the best—and the worst—features of radio, movies and vaudeville."

"But one feature is definitely important—and that is personality."

Millions Prove Camel Mildness in Their Own "T-Zones" (T for Throat and T for Taste)

Ask yourself which test—of all those you are urged to make these days—is the sensible test? Doesn't it make sense to you that the best test is a thorough test? Smoking one brand—cigarette after cigarette, pack after pack—for 30 days?

Not just a sniff of one brand, or a casual whiff of another—a quick inhale of this cigarette, an exhale of that. Not just hurried, one-puff experiments.

The sensible test, the "no-trick" test is to smoke Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days. Let your "T-Zone" decide.

Smoke only Camels for 30 days. Compare Camel's choice tobaccos for mildness and flavor. Find out for yourself how mild a cigarette can be!

MORE DOCTORS SMOKE CAMELS than any other cigarette

This fact was disclosed in a nationwide survey, made of doctors in every branch of medicine and in every State in the Union. 113,597 doctors were asked this question . . . "What cigarette do you smoke, Doctor?" The brand named most was Camel!

BILL STERN: MARATHON TALK CHAMP

This star sportscaster uses his voice hours at a stretch. He's got to have a cigarette that agrees with his throat. Bill Stern says: "Of all the tests I've heard of, only one makes sense to me. A pack-after-pack, day-after-day tryout. Camels won that one!"

Cross-Section, U.S.A.

LANNY ROSS, singing star of television: "When I smoke, I have to think of my throat. It's Camels for me! They're mild!"

COLLEGE STUDENT Anne Hogan: "Mild is right! I changed to Camels and my throat has been thanking me ever since."

STEELWORKER Cyril Byrne: "I changed to Camels just to try them. Now I'm a Camel smoker for keeps! They've got the flavor and they're mild!"

LOOKING AT LIFE

man's brief but powerful message, but with the clearness of a stroke of lightning, the world KNEW.

America was still the land of FREEDOM.

America was still not just the land of promise, but the land where promises are sacred and where promises are kept.

No one in his right mind minimized the dangers of that message. But no one in his right mind would have done otherwise if he wanted to remain an AMERICAN.

The night of June 27 I said two prayers.

One was a prayer of thanks for being an American. The other was a prayer of hope and of strength for what the future may bring.

God Bless America—she is still the land of the free and the home of the brave!

Man Dies From Six Floor Fall

NEW YORK, July 10.—(INS)—A 34-year-old Hollywood man, entirely nude, plunged to his death today from the sixth floor of a Manhattan hotel.

Police said papers found in his room in the Hotel Royalton were made out to James Patrick Cleary of Hollywood Boulevard, Hollywood. They also found a membership card in the Screen Actors Guild made out to Cleary.

Police were unable to account for the fall or jump of the six-footer who apparently was killed instantly.

The man's fall ended on a second floor extension of the hotel.

A hotel clerk said the man registered at the hotel yesterday under the name of Cleary. The clerk added that he left a note directing police to contact a woman "connected with" the Screen Actors Guild in New York.

He bought from the emperor of Constantinople the holy sponge and parts of the true cross. During his crusade he was defeated and captured, and spent four years in captivity in Syria. He returned to France after his liberation, but went on a second crusade on July 1, 1270. He died of plague at Tunis Aug. 25, 1270, and a beautiful Gothic chapel in Paris commemorates this saintly king, and contains the relics he brought back from his crusades.

FRED Niblo, motion picture director became noted as an actor and writer. He was born in New York City Jan. 6, 1874, and was in vaudeville (including two Broadway performances for the British royal family). Amy Fox Is Week End Guest Here

Mrs. Alice Fox, better known in the literary world as Amy Fox, was a weekend guest here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Byers of Walmo, and other friends.

Mrs. Fox who recently won high acclaim for her novel "Kim Dawson," revealed that she is in the process of writing her second novel. Because of the critics' appreciation of the singing quality and choice of words in "Kim," her publishers have taken out an option on her second novel.

Mrs. Fox said further that the locale of the new novel will be in West Virginia and is to be a story of action. Approximately 20,000 words have been submitted to her publishers who wish her to change the emphasis of the plot.

Mrs. Fox, formerly of this city, now resides with her husband at the Cathedral Mansions in Pittsburgh, Pa.

TWO-YEAR-OLD HIKER

CHICAGO—Robert Hayes vanished from his back yard. Scores of kids and adults joined the hunt for him. They confined their search to the immediate neighborhood because they were certain a two-year-old boy wouldn't get very far. But Police Captain Walter Storms decided to look further afield. He found little Bob hiking along a street a mile away. Boy's only comment: "Feet hurt."

Apprehension
Over RussiaMay Play Role In Fighting In Korea

(Special to Central Press)
WASHINGTON, July 10.—There's still a lot of apprehension in Washington over the role Russia may play in the Korean fighting.

The electric atmosphere that prevailed immediately following President Truman's announcement of armed intervention on the side of South Korea has subsided.

There is less fear of immediate direct military action by Russia to counter the U. S. move. But there are new fears.

There is increasing talk in the nation's capital that the Korean fighting may be diversionary—that another of the Russian-controlled satellite armies may strike elsewhere in the Orient, or that Russia herself may find a military "incident" in Iran or Turkey and precipitate military action in the Middle East.

And, too, there has always been the chance that Russia would support the North Korean fighters with ground troops in Korean uniforms, tanks, planes and heavy artillery, and the crews to man them.

Washington doesn't take seriously the Russian claim that she is adhering to the inadmissibility of interference in the internal affairs of free nations.

To official Washington the question is not whether Russia will move, but rather the timing, place and effectiveness of the move she will make.

Long Fight—No quick end to this Korean war is in sight, either, despite initial optimism in the United States, it now appears that the job of driving the Communists from South Korea will be a long, drawn-out task.

There are three reasons why that war has been lengthened: (1) difficulty in dislodging the invaders from fortifications built during their early successes, (2) collapse of the South Korean army, (3) time required to get American troops to the battlefield.

The tide of battle gradually will swing to our side. But it's going to take time and the Korean war may easily last for months, with thousands of American casualties.

Korean Jet Test—The Far Eastern situation doubtless will provide the first test of jet plane against jet plane in history.

The Germans got jets into the air shortly before World War II ended, but the United States couldn't get its Lockheed Shooting Star F-80 ready in time.

Since the last war, 1,700 Shooting Stars were built and a dozen advanced jets are now in some stage of production.

The F-80 is already in combat in Korea and best information is that the Republic F-84 Thunderjet and North American F-86 Sabre will get into the fray if it lasts any length of time.

The M-84 is rated better than 600 miles an hour and the F-86 holds the world's official speed record of 670 m.p.h.

Russia is known to be producing at least 1,000 jet fighters a year and certainly will have to throw some of them into Korea if it wants to avoid complete aerial defeat.

Political Aftermath—Most unbiased political observers say it's too early to tell just what effect U. S. intervention in the Korean war will have on President Truman's chances for re-election in 1952.

Of course, the Democrats believe that the action strengthens Mr. Truman's hand on the ground that he has demonstrated that the administration is not "soft" toward Communist aggression.

On the other side, the Republicans say that the decision to send American forces to Korea is open admission of the failure of Mr. Truman's past policies and indicates previous "bungling" by the administration.

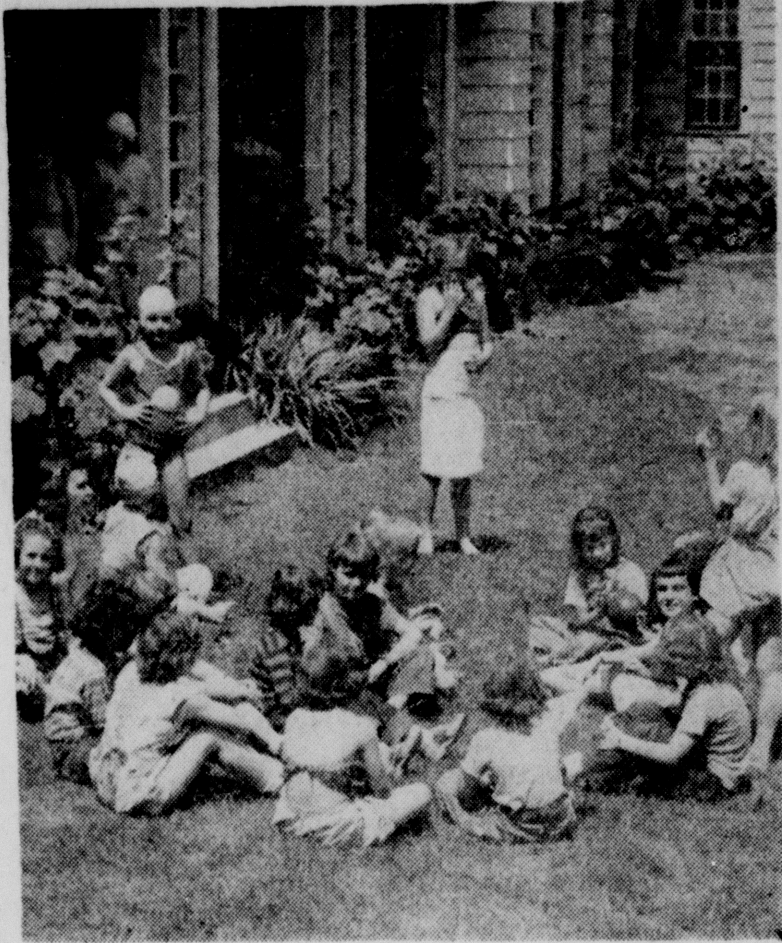

Now that the fighting has started, politics have been forgotten for the time being. Republicans have lined up solidly behind the new Far East policy and that's where they'll stay until the fighting ends.

But 1952 is still too far away to make any predictions now. The fighting may have ended long before then or there may be a new international crisis. These could influence the election outcome.

EXPENSIVE "JOKE"

CALAIS, France.—An excursionist's "joke" caused 25 people to be injured in a bus smash near here. Six buses were returning from a day's outing, when someone in the leading vehicle had the bright idea of waking his sleeping companions with a shout of "Fire!" The driver, alarmed, braked suddenly and the second bus of the line crashed into the back of the first. Twenty-five of the 51 passengers were taken to hospitals.

NEW BEDFORD

FIRE COMPANY MEETING
Anyone interested in the plans and activities of the Pulaski Township Volunteer Fire Company is invited to attend an open meeting on Wednesday evening, July 12, in the basement of the Pulaski Presbyterian church. The meeting is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. After a short business meeting there will be a movie pertaining to fire prevention.

GRANGE MEETING
Members of the New Bedford Grange met at the hall on July fourth for a delicious picnic supper. Following the supper the regular grange meeting was held with George Wortman, master, in the chair. Bids are to be received for the painting of the outside of the grange hall. Two couples were obligated in the first and second degrees by Earl McClusky. Another couple was reinstated.

Rubber Plants
Are Reopened

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)—The reopening of three more government-owned synthetic rubber plants today is the total number in operation to 18 with a capacity of 1,000 tons.

Nine others are still in standby condition. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation lists these three for reactivation:

A Port Neches, Tex., general purpose rubber plant, with an annual capacity of 75,000 tons; a Houston, Tex., butadiene plant, formerly operated by Sinclair Rubber, Inc., and a Baton Rouge, La., plant, specially designed to produce 31,000 tons of "butyl rubber" a year for use in inner tubes.

Meanwhile, the Commerce department reported that world output of natural rubber reached a post-war record in May. Production totalled 150,000 long tons, or 10,000 tons above a 1945 average.

California Company
To Overhaul Planes

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)—The Air Force announced that a $6,884,400 contract has been let to a California company for the overhaul and reconditioning of F-51 Mustang fighters.

The reconditioned planes presumably will be used to guard air units to replace similar craft taken for use at the Korean front.

The contract is to the Grand Central Aircraft Corp., of Glendale, Calif.

Another contract for $6,250,000 was awarded to the same company for modification of B-29 bombers, also active over Korea.

The air force said the B-29 contract was awarded by letter June 30. It did not give the date of the F-51 contract.

Loading Ships For War Area

San Diego Naval Base Is Humming
With Much Activity

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 10.—(INS)—The San Diego naval base hummed with war's grim preparations today as warships and transports loaded with supplies and battle gear for the operations against the Reds in Korea.

Caravans of trucks rumbled in a steady stream from Camp Pendleton, the world's largest marine base, to navy piers where the attack cargo ship Seminole and the transport Henrico, Pickaway and George Clymer are loading the tanks, guns and ammunition of the first marine division.

Other trucks steamed into the base from El Toro with the equipment of the first marine air wing, which has been ordered to the far east to support the first division. Nearby the 10,000-ton escort carrier Badoeng Strait and the destroyers Rowan, Henderson, McKean and Gurke took on supplies. The warships put in from Hawaii yesterday to make up part of the convoy taking the marines to the campaign against the Korean communists.

Federal Judge Gives Sentence To Writer Of Obscene Letters

PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—Federal Judge Thomas J. Clary today imposed a suspended sentence of seven years on a 44-year-old janitor for sending "filthy and obscene" letters to three 12-year-old Christiana, Pa., girls.

Postal inspectors said H. Leroy Clair, whose family lives in Littleton, Pa., admitted writing the letters to the school girls last February. He pleaded innocent last March, but switched to no defense on June 19.

Judge Clary ruled that Clair must move away from Christiana within ten days and submit to psychiatric examinations if ordered by the Federal Probation department.

Boy Scouts Back From Jamboree

Lawrence county's Boy Scout delegation to the national jamboree at Valley Forge returned early Sunday morning to the B. and O. railroad station.

Most of the parents of the boys were on hand for the arrival.

The boys reported having a splendid time at the jamboree, and during the sightseeing tour of Washington on the way home.

Lawrence county youths rated the highest in camping in section 28, comprised of 34 troops from western Pennsylvania. The boys were judged on displays, morale, gateway, daily inspection and all-around camping.

The local troop was in tough competition, too, as section 28 was judged the best in the entire region three.

59 Little Dutchmen Born On Ocean Trip

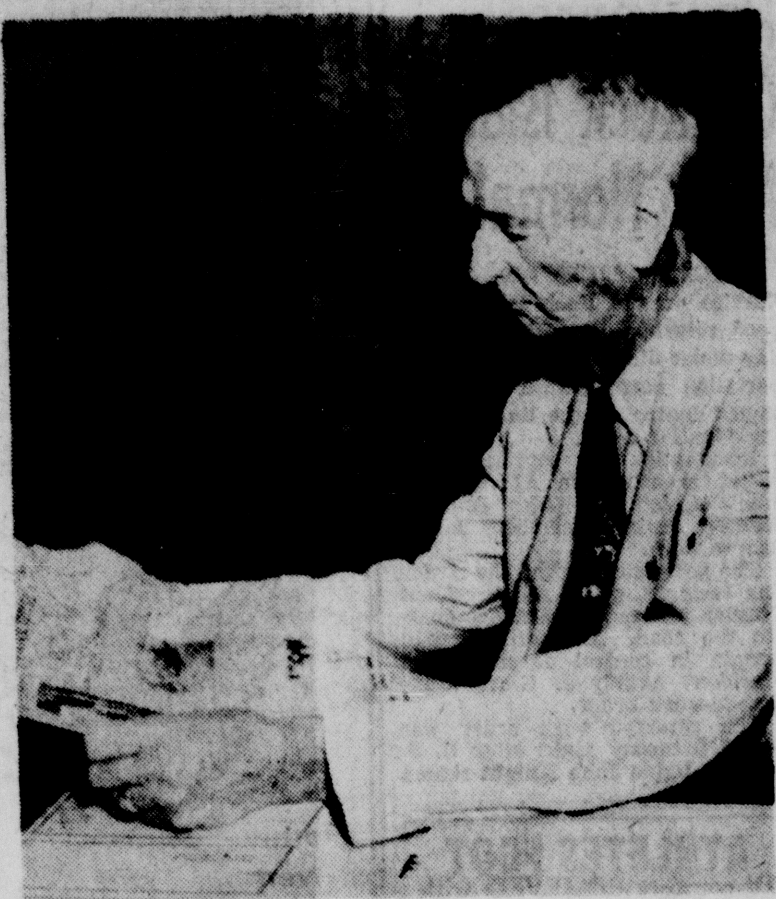

AMSTERDAM, July 10.—(INS)—Fifty-nine wailing little Dutchmen arrived in their homeland today—all aboard the liner Atlantis on which they were born during a 10,000 mile journey from Indonesia.

The vessel carried 251 expectant mothers—wives of Dutch army and navy personnel—and a hospital staff of 73 doctors and nurses to care for them.

The first of the children was born ten minutes after his mother came aboard. He was named Felix after his father—and Atlantis—after the liner.

Street Dedication One Big Faux-Pas

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)

—Ohio finally has a street named for it in Washington but the dedication ceremony got all fouled up. Mrs. Erma C. Harting, Ohio's "mother of the year," cut a ribbon opening "Ohio Drive."

That part went off without a hitch.

But Rep. Jenkins (R) Ohio, one of the speakers, slipped up and called Interior Secretary Chapman, who dedicated the roadway, "our secretary of agriculture."

Then Ohio Gov. Lausche referred to Chapman as secretary of state. When news photographers thanked Gov. Lausche for posing, they referred to him as "Mr. President."

Ohio had been the only state in the Union without a street named for it in the nation's capital. "Ohio Drive" is a six-mile thoroughfare along the Potomac River. Also present at the dedication were Sen. Taft (R) and Reps. Bolton (R) and McSweeney (D), all of Ohio.

About three sets of quadruplets are born in the United States every year.

DRIVER IS KILLED

TRENTON, N.J., July 10.—(INS)

—Harry W. Knaus, 29, of Pasadena, Md., was killed today when his 14-wheeled tractor-trailer careened into a ditch and struck an embankment at nearby Lawrence township.

Police believe the victim's view was obscured by the torrential rain which struck southern New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania this morning.

Knaus was trapped in his cab which was telescoped by the trailer.

Rail Service On Rock Island Near Normal

CHICAGO, July 10.—(INS)—Service on the Rock Island Railroad returned to near-normal today under direction of army transportation corps officers who assumed control of the line under a Presidential order.

Resumption of service began yesterday after the AFL switchmen's Union of North America ordered striking members to return to work.

The government seized the struck line early Saturday, and President Truman ordered the army to operate the road. ATC officers will remain in control despite union president Arthur J. Glover's return-to-work order.

The return-to-work order was issued Saturday night after U. S. District Judge John Knight signed

Deny Report That Bevin Will Resign

LONDON, July 10.—(INS)—The British foreign office formally denied today radio commentator Drew Pearson's prediction that the resignation of foreign secretary Ernest Bevin will be announced in a few weeks.

The Washington news columnist and broadcaster said on his regular Sunday night program that the ailing Bevin has already resigned and that the announcement of it is being withheld for a few weeks.

Bevin entered the hospital suffering from heart trouble and a general run-down condition shortly after the recent meeting in London of the Atlantic pact nations.

There have been constant rumors in the past few weeks that Bevin would resign and turn his duties over to a younger man.

The National Geographic society says that, pound for pound, the leopard is the most destructive animal.

Girls Grow Up Ahead Of Boys

LONDON.—(INS)—When it comes to growing up, the girls always win.

Science has now discovered that girls grow up two to two and one-half years earlier than boys.

Three British scientists, R. H. Cawley, Hamilton Hogben and J. A. Waterhouse, in an article in the British Journal of Social Medicine, said they established proof of this by examining 642 boys and 662 girls, from 8¼ to 17 years of age in the Tottenham area of London.

They state, in an analysis of their findings, that at an age varying from 10¼ to 11¼ the growth of girls, in all dimensions, is much more noticeable, while two to two and one-half years later there is a swing round in favor of boys.

Before the age of 12, girls on the average are more long-headed than boys, but after that age they become more broad-headed.

At 17 boys are bigger in main body dimensions except pelvic, shoulder and face widths. You mix both black and white, you have a tone or "grayed" color; advise paint experts.

Designation Of Gen. MacArthur Is Given Approval

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)—Congressional leaders of both parties warmly applauded the designation of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as supreme commander of U. N. forces in Korea and predicted it would mean an earlier victory.

Sen. George (D) Ga., declared "an earliest restoration of peace in southern Korea may be contemplated," while GOP policy chief Taft of Ohio, said MacArthur's appointment "will give confidence to the American people and the entire anti-communist world."

Congressional comment on President Truman's action included: Chairman Connally (D) Tex., of the foreign relations committee: "I am gratified that the United Nations has assumed responsibility for the defense of South Korea."

"It wisely approved the selection of Gen. MacArthur as supreme commander by President Truman. The campaign in Korea will take on new force and prestige."

Taft: "Gen. MacArthur is the best possible appointment because of his outstanding ability and judgment and his great knowledge of the far eastern situation."

Sen. Millikin (R) Colo., chairman of the senate GOP policy conference: "It is an excellent appointment which gives a feeling of confidence that there will be a competent military operation."

There were about 1,445,500 deaths and 3,700,000 births in the United States in 1947.

U.S. Is In Better Shape Than Soviet In Agriculture

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)—Specialists on world farming are generally agreed today that the United States is in better shape agriculturally than is the Soviet Union.

They all concede that there are no late, accurate figures to prove Russia's current production.

But they do say that the information that has leaked out beneath the iron curtain shows the United States in considerably healthier condition so far as farm foods are concerned than in Russia.

The consensus is that Russia has gotten well on the road to recovery from the ravages of the late war, but yet may not have reached prewar production.

The United Nations' foreign agriculture organization says that Russian production of bread grains—a keystone in the Soviet economy—is almost up to prewar output. But according to FAO, Russia has lagged behind most western European countries on the comeback road.

OUTDOOR RECIPES

Now that summer is with us outdoor cooking is a pastime that brings joy to the heart of any youngster. And it's even possible that the "old folks" will have a bit of fun, too.

Here are two substantial and easily-prepared dishes that are worth trying.

Tomato And Egg Delight

Pour a can of stewed tomatoes into a frying pan. Heat them thoroughly. Break from four to six eggs into the hot liquid and stir slowly until the eggs are cooked. If you wish, grated cheese and pieces of bread can be added. In a few minutes you'll be ready to serve this tasty dish.

Family Stew—Serves Eight

2 lbs. ground beef
1 cup cornflakes
2 onions
2 cans vegetable soup
2 strips bacon or fat to fry meat
Mix beef with the cup of cornflakes and season with salt and pepper. Make into balls (a raw egg added to the mixture will keep the balls in shape.) Add the two onions finely chopped. Fry the meatballs until they are brown. Pour soup over meat and allow to simmer. Add water to keep from burning. Cook slowly—the longer it cooks the better.

City Officials In Butler Parade

Officials of the City of New Castle participated Saturday in the Butler sesqui-centennial parade.

The parade, the largest in the history of Butler, was over four hours long and was complete from oxcart and wagons to "flying saucers."

New Castle officers rode in open cars with a banner identifying them.

Personnel of the New Castle delegation included Mayor John Haven, Councilmen Richard Davis, Joseph Medure, Gene Schweinsberg and Albert Hoyland, City Clerk Jack Fritz, City Treasurer Bernard Hanlon and City Assessor George Patterson.

NEW YORK, July 8.—(INS)—Ladies of 1950 will wear hosiery with posies!

Flower-motifs, hand painted on nylons, are the newest gimmick in the stocking style picture.

Ellen Troy, the designer, announced today she has developed a special process by which she can convert 51-gauge, 15-denier nylons into veritable canvases for garden scenes. After ruining more nylons than she likes to remember, Miss Troy discovered she can plant flowers on hose without shrinking their wearability.

Her stockings are printed with floral bouquets and sprays on the outer side of the ankle. Such posies as roses, orchids, lilies-of-the-valley, lilacs and petunias run up a lady's calf—for $2.50 to $2.95 a clump.

A lady can even have phlox on her clocks. By special order.

FAILING FIGUREHEADS

Ships' figureheads were discontinued with the coming of steam, which caused the old form of bow to fall out of use and the figure to become obsolete. Last ships of the U. S. navy to have figureheads were the sloops of the Odin class, which, indeed, served with them in World War I.

The origin of coffee is uncertain, but one story is that it was first made in Abyssinia about 875 A.D.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 7. — Film-land's he-men are getting slapped around by the manicured hands of fragile glamour girls.

This pulls a dangerous switch on the old theme of "kick 'em, then kiss 'em," Hollywood's golden rule for wooing a fair lady. Think back—it was Jimmy Cagney who first made screens sizzle and feminine hearts do nip-ups when he pushed a grapefruit in Mae Clark's face.

From then on the No. 1 lover man was the guy who could sneak in the fastest rabbit punch, black the most mascaraed eyes and smack the most cutesy's farthest across the floor.

Even now such heavies as Dan Duryea and James Mason get to whack their leading ladies.

Girls Too Rough
But the femmes are getting out of hand. A counter attack is being plotted with the girls pitching the punches.

Latest man-beater roster includes such lady-like actresses as Maureen O'Hara, Patricia Neal, Janis Carter, Kathryn Grayson, Rhonda Fleming and Arleen Whelan.

Torchy Maureen's life is made miserable by John Payne through two-thirds of P. J. Thomas' "Tripoli" until she levels off and lets him have it—smack across the face. She follows through with a few kicks to hero Payne's shins before he subdues her with a potent hug and kiss.

Payne is a double victim of the bumps and bruise battleground. He gets it in the neck again in "Passage West." This time by another re-head, Arleen Whelan.

Miss Whelan not only deals her victim several rights to the kisser, but also a dozen well-aimed lashes with a bull whip.

Gary Cooper gets his teeth jarred by Pat Neal during a lover's tiff in "Bright Leaf." He finally recovers to clinch the deal with a resounding smack—a kiss, that is.

Rugged Robert Mitchum, usually on the dealing end, gets a jolt when Faith Domergue boxes his ears in "Where Danger Lives." Bob gets three strikes against him. How can he fight back when he is supposed to be driving a car at 80 miles-per-hour?

Another victim of the hard knock school is Robert Ryan who learns the hard way from curvey blonde Janis Carter. The two spar for "Woman on Pier 13" with Janis winning the golden gloves.

Still another redhead dealing out socks is luscious Rhonda Fleming who does battle with Glenn Ford in "Beyond the Sunset" for Paramount.

Man Dies Result Of Battle With Pittsburgh Police

PITTSBURGH, July 10. —(INS) —Frank Dillon died today in South Side hospital from injuries inflicted by Pittsburgh police during a terrific battle in which a squad of men subdued him.

Dillon's wife, Margaret, called police yesterday when he went berserk and threatened to kill her. Two policemen went to the Mt. Washington district home but Dillon routed them with a baseball bat and continued to wreck his apartment.

Three police reinforcements suffered injuries before Dillon was captured and taken to the hospital. His wife said her 41-year-old husband had been released from a mental institution a year before.

Court Approves
Sale Of PlantFacilities Found
Badly Worn Out

Following a hearing and inspection at the scene, Judge W. Walter Braham approved the sale of the old Volant brick plant on Saturday morning to P. M. Cox for $1,000.

It was found upon inspection that the plant equipment was rusted out, the buildings dilapidated and the sale price fair.

Said Judge Braham, "I believe it is in the interests of the public to authorize any tax sale where industrial equipment is concerned or where there are any valuable mineral resources below the ground. We do not want a valuable property to slip and be sold without proper investigation."

ATTENDING TRAINING CAMP

W. Walter Braham, Jr., son of Judge and Mrs. W. Walter Braham is attending Marine Officer's Training camp at Quantico, Va., for the second consecutive year.

Attorney Robert M. White, a Marine officer in World War two has returned from a two week's refresher course at Camp Lejeune, N. C., where he brushed up on military tactics for two weeks.

EVEN FISH ARE CHILLY

These Canadian fishing trips sound fine on a hot day down in these parts but the court house men who have been up this year report a junior sample of the Arctic circle.

Prothonotary John A. Edgar says he fished in Canada this year dressed in longies, a sweat shirt and a sweater. It also rained most of the time. He claims even the fish were shivering.

'American Girl'
Picture Judged

Six "American Girl" oil paintings by famous artists, displayed in a New Castle Store window, created much interest in town. Several votes were cast for the favorite picture.

Picture number one, depicting a teen-age girl dressed in blue jeans and white blouse, won the most votes. A close second was picture number four which showed a typical school girl with pigtails, wearing a white blouse and red vest-like jacket.

The Council of the New Castle Girl Scout area was very fortunate to have a chance to display these valuable pictures.

Model Plane Contest
To Be Held Sunday

First in a series of model airplane contests will be held next Sunday, July 16, at Emery's field, below the New Castle airport on old route 422, it is announced.

Local boys and girls will compete for a trophy to be given to the winner of hand launched glider event (all classes combined). There will be no charge for entries, which will be taken until 2 p. m. at the field.

Karl Walter, contest director, announced several interesting events for this year's model flying season. They are:

July 30—Contest for most consecutive flights with one model during a given period of time.

August 27—Towline glider event.

September 10—Final meet—Cross country free flight event.

There will be no admission or parking charge for any of the events. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Anyone in Lawrence county will be eligible for any prizes, regardless of age or sex.

Firemen Save Home
In North Beaver

Quick response by a host of North Beaver township firemen saved a home Sunday afternoon.

Flames started in the home of Robert McClurg, Mt. Jackson road, at 3 o'clock Sunday. Faulty wiring in a center hall is believed to have been the cause. The flames spread rapidly.

North Beaver township volunteer firemen were summoned and more than ten firemen answered the call quickly. Their efficient efforts saved the home and adjacent buildings.

Damage was estimated at $500. Assistant fire chief Don Craig was in charge of the firemen.

PROTECTION FOR MUSTACHE

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF.—Yes, according to the ruler, that's 12 inches to the end of that razor holder—but that ain't all! Goo-goo-eyed Jerry Colonna has insured his famed mustache for $250,000, and the insurance policy stipulates adequate fire protection. Thus, insurance man Jack Wells (right) inspects the long-stemmed gadget designed to keep the blaze of three packs of smokes daily away from Colonna's brush.

BLACK SHEERS

NEW YORK—(INS)—The principal dress style one sees in New York's swankiest shop windows this summer is the black sheer frock—with or without a jacket. Black sheers, a comparative newcomer in summer styling, are in for a big season. They're considered good fashion for occasions from dawn to dusk—and after. They're particularly good, of course, for dressy summer evenings.

Soap powder in packages was introduced by Benjamin T. Babbitt about 1845.

COLUMBUS, O.—(INS)—Milk,

dairy products and chickens are expected to hit a record production peak this month in the midwest and the result will be over-the-counter savings for housewives. Milk production normally registers a high for the year in June, but this time it may be a new record. The same goes for marketings of broilers and fryers. This data comes from the district office of the U. S. Department of Agriculture which suggests that parents cash in on bargain prices to feed the midwest's 1,876,000 school children an adequate diet of dairy foods.

Boy Scouts Open Camp

Lawrence county Boy Scout camp opened its 1950 season officially Sunday with a capacity of 69 boys in camp.

There are two provisional troops and one natural troop in camp this week. The season for provisional camping lasts three weeks. Scout Executive Thomas G. Allen announced that the first week and the third week are filled to capacity. However, there are still a few openings for boys who wish to attend for the period beginning July 16.

Sunday opening featured a dinner in the dining hall for the campers and 150 parents and scout officials.

Later the Order of the Arrow and junior staff members presented an Indian pageant. A council campfire was held and camp director, John Lawson outlined the program for the week.

Council Renames Haycock Manager Of City Golf Course

During council meeting in city hall today, Samuel Haycock was named by a four to one vote to be the manager of Sylvan Heights Golf course at a salary of $191.60 per month. Councilman Joseph Medure voted against Haycock.

The mayor, John F. Haven, said that by authority vested by council he had entered into a new agreement for the management of the golf course.

Certain regulations were included in the agreement.

Mr. Medure said he was in favor of the regulations but was opposed to voting for Haycock as manager. Haycock's term will end April 30, 1951.

Ask City Action On Proposal For Ball League Park

J. V. Travers, county commissioner, accompanied by half a dozen 8 to 12 year old baseball players appeared before council today, where Travers again asked the city's attitude toward permitting the use of a part of Dean park for the Little Big Baseball league. Travers stated the league of four teams is ready to function.

Mayor John F. Haven and several colleagues took the attitude that the park was under the jurisdiction of the City Recreation league, and their opinion would have to be ascertained.

Regarding the legality of granting the use of the section of the park which will be enclosed with a snow fence, rest rooms, and bleachers, Richard Davis, safety director, stated as a member of the recreation board, he had had maps prepared of the park. Mayor John F. Haven instructed that Solicitor Robert White submit on Tuesday, an opinion concerning the legality of the sanction.

The park was left to the city by the late J. J. Dean and the deed prescribes certain regulations which must be followed.

Travers stated that the league has a fund of donations amounting to $1,200, and that labor will erect the rest rooms, free.

U.S.M.C. District Head Says Enlistee Better Off Than Draftee

"The young man who enlists today is better off in the event of a national emergency than the man who is drafted," Lieutenant Col. A. I. Lyman, acting officer in charge of the Northeastern Recruiting Division, U. S. Marine Corps, announces.

Colonel Lyman's statement was intended to serve as a reply to numerous inquiries received at the local Marine recruiting lately by parents who are worried about their sons entering the service in view of the international situation.

"The Marine Corps certainly hopes that the present international situation will not culminate in war," the colonel added, "however, men who do enter the armed forces before a war become better able to take care of themselves in the event of actual combat, and incidentally become better qualified for promotion."

The Marine Corps is still accepting enlistments. Colonel Lyman pointed out that the young man who enlists today is entitled to the same opportunities as the man who enlisted two weeks ago, no more and no less.

National Guard Now In Training At Indiantown Gap

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., July 10.—(INS)—Approximately 6,000 Pennsylvania National Guardsmen forming the 10 Corp Artillery and the 11th Regimental Combat Team buckled down to training today on the Indiantown Gap military reservation.

Their two-weeks training was kicked off by Gov. James H. Duff, commander and chief of the PNG, who told artillerymen "you have never met under more serious and responsible circumstances in the long history of your outfit."

Later he spoke briefly to members of the combat team and said events of the last two weeks in Korea "make it clear that something has happened that very easily could set the world on fire again."

The Artillery is commanded by Brig. Gen. W. S. Bailey, of Harrisburg, while the combat team is headed by Col. Arthur S. Kemp of Yeading.

The 28th Infantry Division's 10,000 officers and enlisted men, mainstay of the PNG, will open training at Indiantown one week after non-divisional troops depart.

Governor Duff present guides to Company F and Medical detachment, both of Philadelphia, marking recognition of 100 per cent attendance at command inspections in home armories since the last encampment.

Company C, of Norristown, was awarded a trophy symbolic of its regimental basketball championship.

The 166th Artillery Battalion, part of the combat team, will set up its 105 Howitzers on the range for a three-day firing problem beginning tomorrow while the 104th Cavalry Reconnaissance Squadron will fire all day on the machine gun range.

Jessup Says War In Korea Attack Against The U.N.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., July 10.—(INS)—The North Korean attack on South Korea was branded today a murderous assault on the United Nations.

Philip C. Jessup, U. S. Ambassador at large, told the University of Virginia's Institute of Public Affairs that the attack was made "without warning, without provocation, without any justification whatsoever."

The ambassador added that "Communist peace propaganda has sought to lull the peoples of the free world at the very moment when Communist imperialism was preparing and launching this war of aggression."

Jessup said that the presence of United Nations observers in Korea, and the action of the UN Security Council, completely refuted Communist claims that the South Koreans were guilty of aggression.

Anniversary At Croton Closes

Capacity Crowds At Church On Sunday

Croton Methodist church centennial anniversary has become history but the memories of it will linger long in the lives of the many hundreds who attended or participated in the unusual but sacred services.

Bishop Wicke Speaks

Highlighting the three closing services on Sunday in the church was the address of Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke, resident bishop of Pittsburgh who spoke in the morning to a more than capacity audience. The Bishop held his audience at rapt attention as he took them to earlier days in their lives through the use of I Corinthians 13.

"When I was a child, I spoke as a child," the Bishop read from the great love chapter, "I understood as a child, I thought as a child, but when I became a man, I put away childish things." He pointed out that when a person is a child, he must be served and waited upon, but when older life comes, the former child must serve and provide for others. The church was once young, but now that is older it must constantly serve man as he travels along the way of life.

Dr. Thomas Morris, Grove City district superintendent, conducted devotions, reading the Scriptures and offering prayer, while Rev. Owen Shields presided over the service. The choir, directed by Mrs. Charles Campbell fittingly sang "Live In Me". The altar was banked with beautiful floral tribute, gifts from friends of the church. At noon dinner was served by the W.S.C.S. to 150 guests.

Afternoon Service

Old timers, present and former members of the church took over the afternoon service as they reviewed many happy occasions in the life of the church and brought back many fond memories which will remain with the oldsters for many years yet. Mrs. Carrie Jeffrey Roberts, former principal of Croton school and former church school superintendent of Croton Methodist in her own inimitable manner took Solomon's story from Ecclesiastes sounding out a challenge to all present. Most of the participants during the afternoon were more than 80 years of age. Mrs. Carl Locke Campbell led in the singing of old familiar hymns. Lunch was served at 6 p.m. to over 100.

Cantata Presented

The church choir directed by Mrs. Charles R. Campbell, sang the cantata "The Good Shepherd" as a concluding feature to the successful anniversary. Soloists during the evening were: Betty Jane Nelson, Mrs. Gladys Kenen, Mrs. Sara Yoho, Mrs. Jessie Beck, Donna Sheehy, Barbara Gormley, Ralph Heckathorne, Kenneth Bishop, Elmer Morrow, Albert Rowles. The centennial committees follow: General, Mrs. Russell Gormley, chairman; Mrs. C. R. Campbell, Mrs. Kenneth Bishop, Betty Jane Nelson, Donna Sheehy, James Snow, Sr., Charles Kenen, Fred Hill, Albert Rowles, Rev. Owen Shields, Mrs. Vane Johns, invitations, John Wilson, Ruth McCoy, Donna Sheehy, Mary Lou Gardner, Gladys Kenen, Mr. and Mrs. Carl McCreary, Ward Sizer, Betty Jane Nelson; decorating, Mr. and Mrs. V. fountain installed at Jackson Park, near Oak street on East Washington street, is being made by both pedestrians and motorists alike. The stone fountain erected by city workmen helps make the water feel more refreshing and invites many to partake of its cool waters.

Work of white lining the main highways about the county has been completed by state workmen. Many accidents will be avoided if motorists obey the lines and keep in their own lane of traffic.

Good progress is being made by workmen on the construction of the bridge over the Nesheanock creek at Grove street. Work on constructing the piers moves right along. Low tide of the creek at this time facilitates the work.

Thinning work is being done in numerous orchards about the county at this time due to the bountiful supply of apples on the trees. One orchardist at Enon Valley reports his trees are splitting due to the heavy crop. This year's crop may exceed that of last year which was a large one.

To Act On Arms Bill
The Foreign Affairs Committee called an executive session for today to act upon the $1,222,500,000 Arms Aid Bill. The measure, already approved by the Senate 66 to 0, authorizes the further shipment of armaments to North Atlantic pact allies and other non-Communist countries.

Indications are that the usually slow-moving foreign affairs committee will report the bill out soon. It should be approved by the House within the next week or two.

Tomorrow the House will take up the second part of President Truman's point four program to aid economically-depressed areas throughout the world.

'LOST BATTALION' FIGHTS WAY OUT OF KOREAN TRAP

talion fought a most successful holding and delaying rear guard action."

The men of the "lost battalion", described the action in their own way. They called it a vicious fight to survive and a retreat which cut its way through tank-supported communist columns.

They sobbed as they told of being forced to leave their wounded behind—and of seeing one wounded man machine-gunned before he could raise his weak arms in surrender. They called it the "roughest deal" they have had so far in the Korean war. They fought tanks with bazookas for want of anything heavier.

Encircled For Hours

The weary men were part of the two battalions assaulted in Chonan late Friday and early Saturday. The first beat its way back to Chonui but the second group was encircled for many desperate hours.

Their stories illustrated just what it means to fight a "delaying rear guard action"—an action vitally necessary to win the time needed to pour adequate supplies of American men and material into Korea.

The Americans said they were forced from their positions north of Chonan Friday night, pushed into the town itself to the defenses of clay huts and muddy alleyways. But communist tanks, hot on their heels, soon began poking their big guns into huts and alleys to blast out the Americans.

Bazookas took their toll of three tanks but more kept coming, rolling in with red infantrymen in their wake. Other tanks moved into flanking positions on the town.

The Americans, after two hours, were overwhelmed and forced to retreat in whatever way they could.

When the Bunting Glider Company advised us in January that they were discontinuing the manufacture of all gliders excepting the all-Steel models, we placed an order for 100 Pillow-Arm gliders to sell at the special price of $39.95 with the understanding no more would be available at any price. Bolotin customers comparing them with similar gliders selling for as much as $64.50, snapped them up in a hurry. Another store over-buying on the same glider, cancelled part of their order and the lateness of the season compelled Bunting to sell them at a loss. They've just arrived. Exactly as illustrated in choice of three colors. Make your selection tomorrow! Save $25.

New Tax Move Is Opposed

Charge Hike Would Aid Marx Program

WASHINGTON, JULY 10 (INS)—The National Association of Manufacturers charged today that a proposed hike in corporation taxes will "destroy the business structure" in a manner foreseen by "the father of Communism."

The N.A.M. suggested instead that Congress scrap the present excise tax structure and replace it with a five per cent manufacturers' levy on all products except food and food products.

In a statement prepared for delivery before the Senate Finance Committee, Charles B. Sligh, Jr., chairman of N.A.M.'s taxation committee, declared that "Karl Marx, the father of the Communism, proposed heavy graduated income taxes as an effective way to Communize an advanced capitalist economy."

The house-passed tax bill now under study in the Senate Committee provides for a tax of 41 per cent on all corporate incomes over $25,000 a year.

The present rate is 38 per cent. But Sligh insisted that the measure under study, by applying a "progressive" tax system of 21 per cent to the first $25,000 of corporate income and a flat 20 per cent on net income above that figure, would be "a revolutionary departure of the gravest consequences."

The N.A.M. spokesman declared: "It opens the way to any third fourth or fifth bracket rate that a future Congress may decide to impose."

Captured Korean Equipment To Be Given Study

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, July 10.—(INS)—Three train loads of captured North Korean equipment rumbled southward today from the front end route for study by United States Ordnance and materiel experts.

The equipment is mostly of Russian make and includes one truck, one armored car, several 75 millimeter artillery pieces with Lithuanian army markings, anti-tank guns and ammunition, mortars and mortar shells.

Russia seized Lithuania in 1939.

South Korean Railroads Easy Mark For Guerrillas

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)—U. S. military leaders cautioned today that guerrilla activity and sabotage could prolong the Korean war for months, even if the American-South Korean forces can crush the North Korean invasion in a matter of weeks.

Defense Department spokesmen said that every precaution is being taken to guard railroads and supply depots against sabotage, and to build the morale of the Koreans against guerrillas. Guerrilla forays so far were described as "sporadic and disorganized."

The spokesman added that Korea's mountainous terrain and precarious transport system would provide conditions for a nightmare of guerrilla activity if any substantial portion of the South Korean population can be turned against the Americans.

Railroads Vulnerable
They said that South Korea's railroads—the only suitable means of large scale transport—would be particularly vulnerable to attack because of their many tunnels and bridges.

One railroad line stretching northwest from the port of Pusan, where Americans are landing from ships and planes, boasts 200 tunnels in as many miles. Highway travel is generally impossible except by jeep and tracked truck.

Thanks to Japanese construction before the war, the railroads are generally good and the main lines for the most part are double tracked except through tunnels. The 160 mile passenger run from Pusan to the provisional capital at Taejon is seven hours. Barring sabotage, an 18,000-man U. S. division and its equipment could be moved up over this railroad in four days.

No movements of the U. S. divisions sent to Korea by ship have been disclosed, but by the

Seasonal Increase Expected In Meat Prices This Summer

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)—The Agricultural department is looking for an average seasonal increase in the price of meat animals and meats this summer.

Farmers' peak prices are expected to occur in late summer or early fall.

The department says that prices of cattle are higher now than at this time last year and are expected to continue higher through the summer.

Prices of hogs leveled off in June after rising rapidly from mid-April through May. They are not likely to drop those of last summer, although they will rise somewhat.

Probably exceptions to the general trend this summer are sheep and lamb and lower grades of cattle. Prices for these should decline somewhat.

Equal Production
The department expects production of meat this summer to be about equal to last year. The same number of barrows and gilts is expected to be slaughtered this year as last, but a few more sows may be butchered.

Marketings of cattle from feedlots may not be as large this summer, but preventing beef supplies from equalling last year's output will be late in the season.

More cattle were on feed this winter and spring than last, but they are scheduled for later marketing.

The department says that meat prices in the last two and a half years has about kept pace with the nation's population growth. The change in meat consumption per person has taken place during the period.

But the department predicts that things will pick up during the last quarter of this year. Consumers are expected to eat more meat during that period.

In The Open

I drove back along the hillside edging the wide reservoir, passing a dozen or more cars which were pulled off into the tall grass at openings in the tangled thickets. These were the cars of hopeful fishermen, come to try their luck with the bass and bluegills resident in the man-made dam. There was just enough air stirring to ruffle the surface and the water was at the cloudy stage when bluegills seem to bite the best.

I drove in as far as the narrow roadway permitted, and changed from city clothes to rough garb more suitable for ploughing through the brambles and splashing along the muddy edges. Sprawled in the shade close by were two veteran anglers catching a bit of rest before the evening fishing. They had spent the previous night throwing a variety of plugs at the bass, had scored with the bluegills during the day and were now preparing to start a second night in pursuit of the lunkers who occasionally fall for a shiny lure.

Hard-Bitten Fishermen
It is hard to match the enthusiasm of the hard-bitten fisherman. If those two sleepless addicts had to make their living by stumpling about all night in a pair of hot waders, slapping at mosquitoes and falling over all sorts of midnight obstacles there would soon be a hue and cry for better working conditions. But give them room enough for a back cast and just one more fish left in the pond and they'll "work" under the most intolerable conditions and come back for more.

I moseyed on up to the head of the dam, hoping to find a spot where the wild folk had not been thrown off-schedule by the hip-boated invader. A lone loon maneuvered about in the deeper water, diving when the angler crowded him. He must have injured a wing for he should be farther north with the rest of his gang, raising a brood of young divers.

In a sunny opening where a feeder stream enters the dam I encountered a small flock of cedar waxwings. As is their custom they kept well up in the trees, now and then favoring me with the whistled "Sree-ee-ee" which is their only audible comment. They were snapping up insects on the wing with the skill of a flycatcher.

I sat for a short while by the shallows at the head of the reservoir. A tanager sang in the oaks behind me and a nuthatch explored a water elm close-by. Aside from the loon and a pair of noisy killdeer there was no sign of the usual complement of water birds. Dragon flies zoomed about hunting lunch and a tiny painted turtle, about as big as a silver dollar, swam by at my feet.

Up Main Feeder Stream
Then I moved up along the main feeder stream, through a wide swampy bottom where the mosquitoes had staked out claims, and where the stinging nettle stood guard. Here the chat and the Maryland yellow-throat were singing, while a vireo sermonized as he patrolled the treetops. Elderberry was in full bloom, and the tall meadow rue, and the air was redolent with the strong perfume of wild bergamot, which I had crushed in passing.

I perched on a knoll above the sluggish pools in the lazy creek and watched a small bass and a parcel of bluegills compete for whatever provender came along. There came a sudden silent flash of wings and a big bird coursed low above the ground. He halted in a low tree about fifty feet distant and I caught him in the glasses as an adult marsh hawk, his back blue-gray in the sunlight.

Wide Swing Through Timber
Before heading back to the car on the hillside I made a wide swing through the timber edging the dam. Plump mayapples offered their dead-ripe sweetness to those who like their sickening taste. Tall rocket-spires of the black cohosh were beginning to bloom. Jewel weed had taken over the forest floor, and I waded through a knee-high sea of its cool, moist greenery. At favored spots, where a bit of sun got through, the shrubby wild hydrangea was in full bloom.

On the way back to the car I stopped to watch one of the sleepy fisherman angle for bluegills. He was float fishing with a high degree of skill, dropping his hook well out over the water weed, and maintaining the tight line necessary to hook into the scrappy little fellows, who bite readily, but lightly.

Two Safe Crackers Are Captured By Vandergrift Police

VANDERGRIFT, Pa., July 10.—(INS)—Vandergrift Police Chief Michael J. Calizzi today said an anonymous telephone tip enabled him and four other officers to capture two safe crackers at the Vandergrift club of the Order of the Owl.

Chief Calizzi related that the two men, Nick Koprivich, 38, of Weirton, W. Va., and Joseph Orbovich, 28, of Steubenville, O., were just ready to flee with about $900 when his group surrounded the club yesterday.

Several pistol shots drove the thieves to cover. Later Chief Calizzi fired five tear gas projectiles which forced Orbovich to surrender. Then the officers used Orbovich as a shield and went in to get Koprivich.

The pair had broken through a concrete partition to get at the safe.

Senate Says Public Supports Businesses Owned By Racketeers

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(INS)—Senate crime investigators set out to prove that the unknown public helps support the underworld by patronizing legitimate businesses owned by racketeers.

They also plan to demonstrate how the racketeers load the dice against law-abiding business men by using illegally obtained money and crime-world techniques.

The crime probes have been furnished a list of 80 legitimate enterprises which director Virgil W. Peterson or wholly by big-time gangsters.

Peterson frankly told the group, however, that it is up to the committee to obtain the records in order to prove the allegations.

Chairman Kefauver (D) Tenn., said the list will be kept secret, committee completes its study.

Kefauver said the group already has considerable information on the matter but did not disclose any details.

BUENOS AIRES, July 10.—(INS)—Argentina reportedly has ordered curtailment of canned meat exports to Britain as a result of the Korean War.

Packhouse officials said the government has instructed exporters to limit meat exports to the British Isles to 20,000 tons for the next 12 months, due to the possibility the United States will require large quantities of beef for its troops abroad.

Argentina supplied large amounts of meat for K rations during World War II.

Good Taste

By FRANCES MARKEL

Answer: Not entirely! All food should be served from the left so that guests may help themselves from the serving dish using the right hand without awkwardness.

Dessert, even that not requiring the guests to help themselves from a serving dish, should be served from the left. All used dishes are removed from the right. And glasses and goblets, being at the guests' right side, are filled from the right. Butter at the guests' left is replenished from the left.

Silver is placed thus on the table when it is set—before the guests are seated:

It should be arranged in the order of its use, working from the outside in toward the plate.

All spoons and knives are placed at the right of the plate. All forks at the left with the possible exception of the oyster fork which may be placed at the extreme right of the plate, so that it may be the first piece of silver on the right.

Three pieces on each side are the maximum for flat silver. Additional silver, for dessert for instance may be brought in with the course and placed either from the right or the left—depending upon whether it is a spoon or fork and knife which should be placed on the proper side.

Question: I have just received a wedding announcement, and have been told that no acknowledgment is necessary. Is this true?

Answer: Neither an acknowledgment nor a gift is essential. You may if you wish write the bride and groom a note extending your best wishes; or better still, call on them when they return from their honeymoon.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

WHAT'S GOING ON AT FORD...

AFTER 30 YEARS—A SECURE OLD AGE

Another "Ford First" benefits oldest living auto mechanic

ON April 1, 1950, hundreds of Ford old-timers, who have retired since last July after years of service, received their first pension checks under the new pension plan which Ford set up last year.

Industry observers see the Ford retirement plan as a progressive step in a program of employee benefits which recalls the famous $5-a-day wage of years ago, the 8-hour day, and the 5-day week. All were pioneered in the automobile industry by Ford Motor Company.

The pension supplements U. S. Social Security benefits, calls for the payment of millions of dollars annually into the pension fund.

More than 1,100 Ford, Lincoln and Mercury employees who have met age and service requirements are already taking advantage of the pension plan. Thousands more are being given an adjustment period to get their affairs in shape before retirement. Employees who are 65 with 30 years of service, retire with the full $100 a month which includes Social Security benefits. Workers with less service at 65 can retire at a scaled-down pension.

One of Ford's happy, retired men is 80-year-old Walter Griffith, whose claim that he was the oldest on-the-job automotive mechanic in the United States before he left Ford Motor Company last December, never has been challenged. Over the years, Ford has studied many plans for giving loyal workers like Griffith security in their old age, has adopted the one that promises to work the best.

This program is part of "the Ford idea" since it benefits the employees, Ford Motor Company, and the public.

5. "DID YOU HELP BUILD IT, GRANDPA?" Nancy, Bonnie, and June Kendeigh, three of Mr. Griffith's 12 grandchildren, ask him when he takes them to see an old Winton automobile. He delights to tell them stories about famous automotive men he knew in his youth.

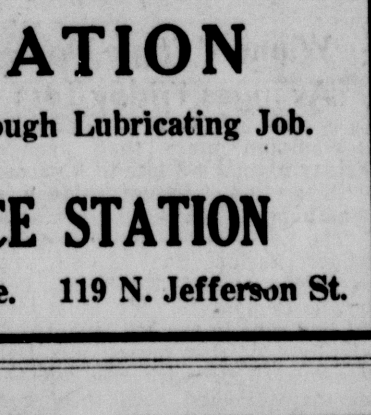

Most of the old-timers are gone now. But Walter Griffith, very much alive, and happy, looks forward to secure years made possible through the regular income provided by his Ford Motor Company pension plus his wife's own Social Security benefits.

4. RELAXING AT HOME. Walter and Edna Griffith enjoy a quiet game. They have celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary and own their own home in Dearborn, located near the homes of three of their four children. Mr. Griffith lectures and writes about Detroit's early days. She quilts, crochets. Both are active in church and clubs.

Senators Drub Youngstown Twice Over Weekend, 11-8, 5-0

Churchill Pitches Shutout; Erie Sailors Here Tuesday

New Castle's fiery young Senators treated their Youngstown "cousins" rather shabbily over the weekend, winning Saturday night 11-8 and Sunday 5-0 last night, to maintain their two and a half game margin over the troublesome Oil City Refiners.

Stan Zedalis (7-8) got credit for the Saturday night embroglio after relieving Becka who had in turn relieved to veteran Frank Wagner. Herb Churchill became the first Senator hurler to win 10 games as he spun his sensational 5-0, seven hit last night. The Gloucester, Mass., hurler now has a (10-3) record on the mound.

Seek Three In Row Tonight
The fighting Senators will attempt to make it three in a row over the Youngstown Athletics tonight in a benefit game carded for the newly constructed Addison Field at Masury, Ohio. Game time is 8 o'clock. It is a benefit game sponsored by the Brookfield, Ohio, Optimist Club for Boy's Work promotion.

Manager Chuck Cronin has nominated George Becka to do the hurling for New Castle.

Erie Sailors Here Tuesday
George DePillo, the heavy-hitting right-fielder smacked his fifth homer for New Castle in the Sunday night game. Danny Dondero continued his sensational hitting in both Youngstown games getting five for 11 trips. Al Mouton back at third base after a night-off, had four for eight over the weekend. DePillo had four for 10, and George Eikenberg had four for seven. Gene Bilo stole his 47th base Saturday night.

The Erie Sailors will appear at Flaherty Field Tuesday for a three-game series that should be a humdinger. Erie is six games back of the Senators and "burning". Butler is 7½ off the pace and "fuming".

Senators Fight Back

Youngstown appeared to have wrapped up Saturday night's see-saw affair with a four-run spurge in the seventh inning. Three hits, three walks and an error produced the damage and chased starter Frank Wagner from the hill.

However, the Senators bounced back for two scores in the eighth on three walks and a single by George Eikenberg. The A's maintained command, 8-6.

"Kicks" Hit Does It

In the big ninth frame, New Castle's reliever, Harry Miller and his replacement, Jim Johnson, to pull the fat from the fire.

Ten batters stepped to the plate for a combination of five hits and three walks. John Vizzini punched a two-run single that tied the game, and George Eikenberg's hit supplied what proved to be the winning run.

Stan Zedalis, third of three New Castle Twirlers, set down Youngstown without a hit in the final two innings to bag the decision.

Churchill Master

Churchill was master of the situation throughout in last night's affair. Youngstown's seven hits came one an inning, from the second through the eighth, and only in the third did the A's get a runner on third base.

The Senators clinched it with three runs on two hits, a walk and three errors in the third. Bilo was passed, rode home on Dan Dondero's double, and the latter scored when Al Mouton duplicated the blow.

Mouton tallied when Lou Higgins fumbled John Vizzini's roller.

Playing At Masury

New Castle got another on a walk and singles by DePillo and Eikenberg in the fifth. DePillo's

Wampum Downs Bessemer, 10-4

Winners' Triple Play Averages Friday Loss

Wampum more than avenged Friday night's 4-3 loss to Bessemer with a 10-4 triumph Sunday at Wampum.

The home forces got to two Bessemer hurlers for 13 hits and overcame an early 3-0 lead held by the Cementers. Wampum scored five runs in the big seventh. A highlight of that inning was Dale Brown's single with two out and the bases loaded. All three runners scored on the blow.

Second baseman Brown was also the key man on a triple play that went second to first.

Vance led the Wampum batters with three hits. Madrid had a single and a triple for Bessemer.

E. Bauder went all the way on the mound for the win. He gave up eight hits, walked three and struck out three.

Trouble Ahead For 'Tomboys'
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—Parents of "tomboys" are cautioned their rugged female offsprings may be headed for emotional trouble.

Dr. Ralph Zabarenko, associate psychiatrist at the Staunton Institute, told a group of doctors at the Western Psychiatric Institute in Pittsburgh that women who suffer periodic distress probably preferred tree-climbing and the like to playing with dolls and dancing when they were children.

"There is a good deal of evidence that deep down they resent being girls," said Dr. Zabarenko, estimated that half the women in the country suffer such resentment which sometimes breaks out in distress.

The trouble is caused by conflicting feelings. That is, in order to get somewhere with men, women have to be feminine, but at the same time they dislike having to feel inferior.

Dr. Zabarenko suggested that mothers confer with their family physician on the type of instruction he will retain his endurance. If Mitri is as good as his record indicates LaMotta will need his full strength for this 15-round.

In his only start in this country, Mitri took a decision over Dick Wagner, whom LaMotta knocked out, so there is not much of a line to be had on him, except from what his record shows.
